Ruth Dilts, Joan Lohr : Needlepoint 202 A Guide to 12 Different Techniques with illustrations for Embellishment of the Painted Canvas before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Needlepoint 202 A Guide to 12 Different Techniques with illustrations for Embellishment of the Painted Canvas:

A Guide to Embellishment for Painted Canvas Giving 12 Different Techniques with Illustrations is authored by Ruth Dilts. Ruth's work is recognized internationally and has been featured in articles online. 12 different canvases using various different techniques are in the book along with stitch guides and stitches for each. Pictures of unfinished and finished pieces are shown. Some of the techniques covered are Knots - 4 kinds, Ruching, Padding - 3 kinds, Thread blending, Thread Painting, Tufted Stitches and others. Below, is a recent review from Theresa Swiecicki of Homestead Needle Arts: "Here's another great sneak peek for market - a new book by Ruth Dilts. Scared of painted canvas? This book follows Needlepoint 101 and is a really great guide for anybody wanting to embellish their canvas. ... EVERYBODY can benefit from the techniques and stitches in this book. And there's color pictures - our favorite! Ruth covers beading, couching, knots, padding, ruching, thread blending and painting, tufted stitches, twisted and wrapped cords. She demonstrates with several Santa pictures how to use these same techniques. There are more than 12 stitched canvas pictures in the book and Ruth breaks each one down, telling you what stitch was used in each. If you study each carefully, you'll go away with the knowledge to apply to a canvas of your own! She also diagrams over 40 needlepoint stitches for you in the back of the book. Oh - did I mention I already have a few in the shop?"
