"OOOOOH", the essentials of needlepoint with River Silks, by Paul F. Krynicki, is now available through River Silks Ltd. Paul guides the stitcher through his fabulous stitches and illustrates his secrets to very lush canvas embellishment. It's a very readable primer which demystifies working with silk ribbon and serves as a great reference and teaching tool. This is a classy publication using top quality paper, color photos and a durable vinyl cover which lies flat. Packaged with a piece of canvas, a needle and a card of silk ribbon, the stitcher can immediately try out the various techniques. It's my suggestion that no stitching library is complete without "OOOOOH!".
