Now it does tell you to bend and not fold but when your child applies a little much pressure....oops.The stumbling zombie was not as easy. If anything, it was frustrating!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. How Clever!By CustomerI have Gorganzilla walking down a "hill!" I'm amazed, and my grandkids think I'm great!0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. No child can do this. I have been working ...By Jef SampNo child can do this. I have been working on the Godzilla for 30 minutes and am still not done. This is going straight into the trash.

"Directions are easy and assume no prior experience making models or working with paper, while the step-by-step instruction book is clear and inviting. From mummy heads and zombies to dragons and aliens, kids and many an adult will find this a fun set of inspiring paper creations that takes the modeling process and makes it accessible to anyone." Midwest Book "This is the perfect kit to get into the Halloween spirit. As my favorite holiday, I don't think we can do enough to decorate for Halloween; this kit will provide both entertainment and adorable paper figures for you to create spooky scenes from. When I think of kits, I think of buying the kit and then having to search the store for each individual assembly piece as well. With the Origami Toy Monsters Kit, you will have glue and other materials necessary for your projects in the kit itself." Madison Bowes, Editor, AllFreeKidsCrafts.com blog "This book and kit by Andrew Dewar and illustrated by Konstantin Vints has all the pieces you need to make some fun monsters. And they are not just any monsters but monsters that shake, rattle and move a bit." CraftyMomsShare.com blog "I really love that this kit comes with all that you need to make the projects in the kit that is always a bonus! My boys really loved making these monster the Kraken was the favorite and then bringing them to life in battle scenes. Once again Dewar's instructions are super easy to follow and required little help from me! Another great holiday gift idea!" OutnumberedMama.com blog About the Author Andrew Dewar was born in Toronto, Ontario, and graduated from Ryerson Polytechnic Institute (B.A. Journalism) and University of Toronto (M.A. Japanese Studies, Library and Information Science) before moving to Japan in 1988. After completing his doctoral studies in library science at Keio University, he joined the faculty of a junior college in Japan. Soon after arriving in Japan he rediscovered his childhood love of designing and flying paper airplanes.
