And the instructions are quite clear though some steps did take me some time to figure them out.My girls of 5 y/o and 3 y/o like to put the stickers onto the animals to make them look even cuter. However, the stickers fall off easily.Some projects need two matching papers to make a complete animal, such as elephants, hippos, and giraffes. But three matching papers came in the package to make each animal, which is kind of annoying. Because we can only make one elephant/hippo/giraffe and got one spare matching paper left. It would be better if we could get even number of matching papers for these animals.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. "The kit comes with a double sided zoo mat. The first side is in color and the second side is left for the child or artist to color [] I love that it has the mat to make it a toy to play after the origami is through. We highly recommend it!!" CraftyMomsShare.com blog "I'm loving the variety, care, and attention Tuttle puts into every kit. We even took some origami along with us on our camping trip last month!" Castle View Academy blog "so colorful and engaging for kids, and parents will love how easy the projects are to put together. The papers already have the patterns on them, plus they come with stickers to decorate once you are finished. And kids will love playing with their animals at the 'zoo' afterwards. Hours of fun!"
